CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Tanır's practice covers child and adolescent health from the newborn period onward. Her areas of expertise include newborn follow-up, infant colic, growth delay and short stature, and pediatric nutrition disorders. She also sees children and adolescents for weight management, where age-appropriate assessment and ongoing monitoring form the basis of care.

Respiratory and allergic conditions are another part of her work. She evaluates and manages upper respiratory tract diseases in children, childhood food allergies and childhood asthma, with attention to symptom patterns and follow-up over time. Dr.
