CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Ergin's clinical focus is anesthesiology and reanimation. A central part of her work is the pre-anesthesia assessment, in which the patient's medical history, existing test results and any earlier experience with anesthesia are typically reviewed so that an anesthesia plan can be prepared that is suited to the individual patient and the planned procedure.

During the procedure itself, Dr. Ergin is responsible for anesthesia care, which includes administering anesthesia and observing the patient's condition throughout. After the procedure, she is involved in post-anesthesia monitoring, during which the patient is observed as the effects of anesthesia wear off. Her area of practice also includes reanimation.
