CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Aydoğ's clinical work covers a range of urological conditions. In oncological urology she evaluates and treats kidney cancer. She also manages kidney stones, bladder health and urinary incontinence, and provides assessment and treatment for pelvic floor disorders, pelvic floor rehabilitation, and pelvic pain and dysfunction. Sexually transmitted diseases form a further part of her general urological practice.

A significant portion of her practice is dedicated to andrology and male reproductive health. This includes the evaluation and treatment of sexual dysfunction, the assessment of male infertility, and the management of undescended testicle. Treatment decisions in each of these areas depend on the individual patient's history, examination findings, and test results, and Dr.
