CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Baykal's practice combines diagnostic radiology with interventional radiology. On the diagnostic side, her areas of expertise include ultrasound imaging, magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) and mammography. These methods are used to examine and characterize findings, to follow known conditions over time and to help clinicians decide whether further investigation or treatment is needed.

Breast diseases form a specific area of interest. Breast imaging typically draws on mammography, ultrasound and, where appropriate, MRI, and the findings are interpreted in the context of the patient's symptoms and prior imaging. Within interventional radiology, Dr. Baykal performs image-guided procedures, in which ultrasound or other imaging is used to guide a needle or instrument to a defined target.
