CLINICAL FOCUS

A central part of Ezgi Hazal Çelik's practice is medical nutrition therapy, in which dietary intake is assessed and adjusted as part of the overall treatment of a medical condition. This includes clinical nutrition therapy for patients receiving hospital care, where nutritional needs may change during illness, before or after surgery, or...

Ezgi Hazal Çelik also provides nutrition support for people with Down syndrome. Individuals with Down syndrome may have particular nutritional considerations related to growth, weight, digestion or associated health conditions, and she prepares individualized nutrition plans that take these factors and the family's daily routine into...
