CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Najafi's clinical work covers three closely related areas: inpatient medical assessment, hospital-based care and inpatient care coordination. Inpatient medical assessment involves reviewing a hospitalized patient's history, current symptoms and clinical findings, following the results of laboratory tests and imaging, and documenting changes in the patient's condition so that the treating team has an up-to-date picture.

Hospital-based care refers to the ongoing medical attention that patients receive while admitted, including monitoring of vital parameters, review of medication and response to treatment, and recognition of clinical issues that may require input from other specialties. Inpatient care coordination brings these elements together: Dr.
