CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Rabea's work centers on emergency medical assessment and urgent medical care. In the emergency setting, she evaluates patients with acute symptoms, takes a focused history, performs a clinical examination and helps determine the urgency of the situation. Depending on the findings, this may involve initiating initial treatment, arranging further tests or referring the patient to the relevant specialist department.

Her experience also includes general practice, which supports the assessment of a broad range of common medical complaints in adults. Through her work in migrant health services, she has cared for patients from diverse backgrounds and is accustomed to working with people who may be unfamiliar with the local health system.
