CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Abike evaluates and manages a range of gynecological conditions. These include cervical cancer, an area reflected in his published work on HPV infection and abnormal cervical cytology, and polycystic ovary syndrome. He also sees patients with fertility concerns, Bartholin cysts, pelvic pain and pelvic functional disorders.

Within his subspecialty areas of urogynecology and menopause, he provides assessment and care for pelvic floor complaints and for symptoms and health questions related to the menopausal transition. Evaluation and care options are discussed according to each patient's clinical findings and individual situation.
