CLINICAL FOCUS

A large part of Fatmanur Yildirim's work relates to the spine. She sees patients with cervical disc herniation and lumbar disc herniation, as well as alignment changes such as loss of cervical lordosis and lumbar hypolordosis. Assessment typically looks at posture, mobility, muscle function, and the way symptoms affect everyday activities.

Her second area of focus is neuromuscular disorders, including myopathy. Patients with muscle and nerve conditions may present with weakness, fatigue, reduced endurance, or difficulty with movement, and rehabilitation aims to support function and independence within the limits of the underlying condition. Related information on neurorehabilitation is available on this site.
