CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Uğraş assesses and treats patients with digestive system conditions, including colorectal surgery, gastroenterological and coloproctological surgery, and small intestine cancer. He also manages gallbladder disease, including cholecystitis, and abdominal wall hernias such as inguinal hernia and umbilical hernia.

His work further extends to endocrine surgery and to breast surgery, including mastectomy and breast reconstruction. The suitability of any surgical approach depends on the individual patient's diagnosis, general health and previous treatments, and is decided after clinical assessment and review of the available findings.
