CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Kabadayı's work is centered on patients with respiratory and critical care needs. Within pulmonary medicine, his areas of expertise include the management of sepsis and the delivery of intensive care treatment for patients whose condition requires close monitoring and organ support.

Alongside acute and intensive care, Dr. Kabadayı's clinical interests include palliative care. This involves attention to symptom control and to care planning for patients with serious or advanced illness, discussed together with the patient and family where appropriate.
