CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Küçük evaluates and manages lung diseases in adults, including chronic obstructive pulmonary disease and asthma. Her subspecialty in Immunology and Allergic Diseases is relevant to patients whose respiratory symptoms may have an allergic component, and assessment typically involves reviewing the patient's history, symptoms and any...

She also sees patients with lung nodules identified on imaging, lower respiratory tract infections and pneumonia, and she is involved in the assessment and care of pulmonary embolism. Smoking cessation is a further area of her practice, reflecting her involvement with the National Committee on Smoking and Health.
