CLINICAL FOCUS

A defined area of Fırat Çenberci's work is the treatment of pelvic pain. This is an area of rehabilitation that calls for careful assessment and a sensitive, individualized approach, since symptoms, contributing factors and personal goals can differ considerably from one patient to another.

More broadly, his work in physical medicine and rehabilitation involves supporting patients through a step-by-step rehabilitation plan that is coordinated with the wider medical team. Physiotherapy in this setting is delivered alongside the medical oversight of the unit's physicians, and the aims of treatment, the exercises used and the expected time frame are discussed with the patient so that the process remains clear and...
