CLINICAL FOCUS

A central part of Dr. Alakbarli's practice is joint replacement surgery. He performs hip replacement surgery and knee replacement surgery for patients whose joint condition is no longer adequately managed with other measures. Whether replacement is appropriate depends on the individual findings, and the decision is usually made after a review of imaging and a clinical examination.

He also treats sports-related and other knee injuries, including cruciate ligament injuries and meniscus tears. The management of these injuries can vary according to the type of injury, the stability of the knee and the patient's individual situation, and Dr. Alakbarli reviews each case before suggesting an approach.
