CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Coşan's work centers on anesthesiology and reanimation. In the field of perioperative anesthesia management, this involves assessing the patient before a procedure, planning the anesthetic approach in coordination with the treating surgical or medical team, administering and adjusting anesthesia during the procedure, and following...

Patient monitoring is a core part of this practice. Throughout a procedure, vital functions are observed and recorded so that changes can be recognized and addressed in a timely manner. Reanimation refers to the support of vital functions when they are compromised, and forms part of the training and responsibilities of anesthesiology and...
