CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Başaran's main area of practice is breast cancer. As a medical oncologist, her role is the systemic, drug-based side of cancer care: assessing the diagnosis and the information provided by pathology and imaging, and discussing which medical treatments may be appropriate for a patient's particular situation.

Her work includes immunotherapy and targeted therapies, treatment approaches that are selected according to the characteristics of the tumor and the overall condition of the patient. Whether these treatments are suitable depends on the individual case and is determined after a full review of the available medical information. Dr.
