CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Seymen evaluates and follows children and adolescents with growth and puberty problems, including growth delay, short stature and early puberty. She also cares for children with childhood diabetes, drawing on her training in insulin pump insertion and management, and for those with pediatric thyroid disorders and pediatric adrenal...

Her practice further includes disorders of sex development, pediatric developmental disorders and broader child and adolescent health concerns. Assessment is tailored to the individual child, and the need for laboratory testing, imaging or longer-term follow-up is decided after the clinical picture has been reviewed.
