CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. İşgüder's practice is dedicated to the dental care of children. Pediatric dentistry addresses the oral and dental health of infants, children and adolescents, and takes into account the child's age, the stage of dental development, whether primary or permanent teeth are involved, and the child's ability to cooperate during...

A second area of focus is dental trauma in children. Injuries to the teeth and surrounding tissues are relatively common in childhood and can affect both primary and permanent teeth. Assessment typically involves a clinical examination of the injured area and, where appropriate, a review of imaging, followed by a discussion of the...
