CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Öztürk's areas of expertise include ultrasound imaging, mammography and Doppler ultrasound. Ultrasound imaging uses sound waves to visualize organs and soft tissues without ionizing radiation and is commonly used as a first-line examination for a wide range of clinical questions.

In her daily practice, Dr. Öztürk performs these examinations, interprets the images and prepares written reports for the treating physician. Findings are described in a cautious clinical manner, and where an examination raises questions that cannot be resolved by imaging alone, the report may recommend further investigation or clinical correlation.
