CLINICAL FOCUS

A significant part of Dr. Yardımcı's practice concerns anorectal and colorectal conditions. He evaluates and treats hemorrhoids and other anorectal disorders, anal fissure and rectal prolapse, and performs colorectal surgery.

He also sees patients with breast diseases, including breast cancer and gynecomastia. The treatment approach depends on the diagnosis, the findings of examination and imaging, and the individual patient's situation. Not every condition requires an operation, and the available options are discussed with the patient before a plan is made.
