CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Ertürk's clinical work centers on the diagnosis and treatment of metabolic disease, including prediabetes, diabetes, obesity, and fatty liver, together with clinical nutrition and the long-term management of chronic diseases. He evaluates and treats thyroid disorders and pituitary disease, including diabetes insipidus.

A further area of interest is geriatric health and the age-related health needs of older adults, where assessment often involves several coexisting conditions and medications. Within functional medicine, Dr. Ertürk takes a broader view of factors such as nutrition and metabolic status alongside conventional internal medicine evaluation.
