CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Kaya's clinical work covers the three areas listed in her profile: anesthesiology, reanimation and intensive care. In anesthesiology, her role involves anesthesia care for patients undergoing surgery or other procedures, provided in collaboration with the surgical and clinical teams responsible for each patient.

Reanimation and intensive care form the second part of her practice. Intensive care support is provided for patients who need closer monitoring and treatment, and Dr. Kaya's subspecialty focus lies in this area. Decisions about whether intensive care support is needed, and for how long, are made on a case-by-case basis together with the treating physicians.
