CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Kodaz sees patients with a broad range of solid tumors. In women's cancers, his areas of expertise include ovarian cancer, breast cancer and cervical cancer. In gastrointestinal oncology, he assesses and plans care for patients with stomach cancer, pancreatic cancer and colorectal cancer. His work also covers lung and thoracic cancers, thyroid cancer, prostate cancer and bone tumors.

As a medical oncologist, Dr. Kodaz evaluates each patient's diagnosis and the information already available, and discusses the medical oncology options that may be considered in that situation. Treatment recommendations depend on the type and stage of the tumor, the findings of prior investigations and the patient's overall health, and they can only be made after an individual assessment.
