CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Akcan's areas of expertise include abdominal radiology, genitourinary radiology, musculoskeletal radiology, oncologic radiology, and head and neck imaging. In these areas he interprets imaging studies to help referring physicians characterise findings, assess the extent of disease and follow changes over time.

Interventional radiology forms a further part of his practice. This field uses imaging guidance during procedures, and Dr. Akcan's background in MRI, CT and ultrasound supports this work. Whether an interventional approach is appropriate for a given patient is decided individually, after the available imaging and clinical information have been reviewed and discussed with the treating team.
