CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Coşkun provides general pediatric care for infants, children and adolescents. A central part of his practice is preventive and routine care: well-child follow-up, newborn follow-up, and the monitoring of growth and nutrition, including the follow-up of pediatric nutritional disorders.

In acute pediatric care, Dr. Coşkun diagnoses and treats upper respiratory tract infections and other pediatric infectious diseases. He also investigates and manages iron deficiency and anemia in children, which may present with fatigue, pallor or poor appetite and is typically confirmed with laboratory testing before treatment is...
