CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Töz evaluates and manages a range of kidney diseases, including kidney inflammation, nephrotic syndrome and kidney failure. His work also covers diabetic nephropathy, in which kidney function is affected by diabetes and requires ongoing monitoring of kidney function alongside the management of the underlying condition.

For patients whose kidney function has declined to the point where renal replacement is being considered, Dr. Töz's practice includes hemodialysis. The suitability and timing of dialysis are individual decisions that depend on the stage of kidney disease, laboratory findings, symptoms and the patient's overall health, and they are...
