CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Tuncay's clinical practice centers on joint disease and joint injury. He treats patients with osteoarthritis and other joint diseases, and performs arthroplasty, including hip replacement surgery and knee replacement surgery. Robotic surgery is part of his surgical practice.

In sports traumatology, his work covers knee injuries and other joint injuries, including cruciate ligament tears and meniscus tears. The choice between non-surgical management and surgical treatment for these injuries is made on the basis of the clinical examination, the imaging findings and the patient's activity level and expectations.
