CLINICAL FOCUS

Diabetes forms a substantial part of Dr. Anaforoğlu's practice. He evaluates and manages patients with Type 1 diabetes and Type 2 diabetes, as well as prediabetes, in which blood glucose levels are raised but do not yet meet the criteria for diabetes. He also sees women with gestational diabetes, a form of diabetes first recognized during pregnancy.

Thyroid and pituitary conditions are his stated subspecialty areas. He treats thyroid disease and thyroid cancer, and he manages pituitary diseases, including diabetes insipidus, a condition that affects the body's regulation of water balance and is distinct from diabetes mellitus despite the similar name.
