CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Çekem evaluates and medically manages a range of endocrine, metabolic, cardiovascular and digestive conditions seen in internal medicine. Thyroid disorders and their treatment form a particular area of interest. He also assesses and follows patients with prediabetes, type 1 diabetes and type 2 diabetes, hypertension, anemia and obesity.

In addition to treating established conditions, Dr. Çekem provides health check-ups and healthy living consultations. His recommendations are based on the individual patient's history, examination findings and test results, and the medical management of chronic conditions is reviewed over time as clinically appropriate.
