CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Kadioğlu's practice is focused on diagnostic pathology, histopathologic tissue diagnosis and pathology laboratory practice. Pathology is a medical specialty that examines specimens obtained through biopsies, surgery and other diagnostic procedures. In this role, she evaluates tissue and cell samples under the microscope in order to characterize disease processes and interpret pathological findings.

As a laboratory-based specialist, Dr. Kadioğlu typically works alongside the surgeons, oncologists and other clinicians who request tissue examination, rather than seeing patients directly for every case. Her work contributes to the multidisciplinary assessment of disease, and pathology reports prepared in the laboratory form part of the wider diagnostic pathway for patients treated at the hospital.
