CLINICAL FOCUS

The core of Dr. Aljobbeh's practice is emergency assessment. This involves evaluating patients who present with acute or unexpected symptoms, establishing the urgency of their condition, and deciding which investigations or interventions are needed at that moment.

Dr. Aljobbeh also provides urgent medical care, meaning the treatment given to stabilize a patient and address the acute problem during the emergency visit. Alongside direct care, he is involved in emergency care coordination. This includes organizing referrals to other departments, arranging admission when it is required, and ensuring that information about the patient's condition and the care already given is passed on...
