CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Demir's clinical focus is on patients who are admitted to hospital and need continuous medical oversight during their stay. In inpatient care, this includes following the patient's clinical course, reviewing findings and test results, and helping to ensure that the treatment plan agreed with the responsible specialist teams is carried out consistently.

His background in emergency medicine and emergency assessment informs how he evaluates patients whose condition changes or who present with acute symptoms. This includes the initial clinical evaluation, recognition of situations that require urgent attention and timely involvement of the appropriate specialists. Through his experience in ambulance medicine, Dr.
