CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Erem's areas of expertise include tonsil surgery, adenoid conditions, and sinus surgery. Whether an operation is appropriate depends on the individual patient's symptoms, examination findings, and the results of any previous treatment, and these points are discussed with the patient during consultation.

A second part of his practice concerns the ear and the balance system: hearing loss, tinnitus, dizziness, and vertigo. Because these symptoms can arise from a range of causes, assessment generally begins with a detailed history and clinical examination, and further evaluation is considered on a case-by-case basis.
