CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Turan evaluates and manages a range of airway and lung conditions. Chronic airway disease is a central part of his practice, including asthma and chronic obstructive pulmonary disease. Reflecting his subspecialty interest in immunology and allergic diseases, he also assesses allergic and immune-related respiratory complaints.

Sleep-related breathing disorders form another part of his work. He evaluates patients with sleep apnea, and polysomnography (sleep testing) is among the diagnostic procedures within his expertise.
