CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Allahverdiyeva's work centers on inpatient care, with a particular emphasis on pediatrics and child health and diseases. Her earlier roles in pediatric intensive care ambulance services and emergency medicine inform her approach to hospitalized patients whose condition may change quickly and who require close observation.

Neonatology is a further area of her expertise, reflected in her membership of the Türk Neonatoloji Association. Her experience in emergency medicine and pediatric intensive care also supports her role in recognizing and responding to acute deterioration in children admitted to hospital.
