CLINICAL FOCUS

Mehtap Feyza Gökalp's areas of expertise include obsessive compulsive disorder, a condition characterized by recurring intrusive thoughts and repetitive behaviors, and eating disorders, which affect eating patterns, body image and, in many cases, physical health.

She also works with sleep disorders, hyperactivity, and puberty and growth problems. In these areas the psychological evaluation usually takes into account the individual's age and stage of development, the concerns described by the patient and, where relevant, by family members, and any findings from earlier assessments.
