CLINICAL FOCUS

A central part of Melek Başaran's practice is diabetic foot care. Patients with diabetes may develop reduced sensation, dry skin and changes in circulation that make the feet more vulnerable to injury and slow healing, so regular inspection and careful, professional care of the skin and nails form an important part of their overall management.

Her listed areas of expertise include the care of deformed nails and thickened nails, which can become painful or difficult to manage without professional attention, as well as corn care and cracked heel care. She sees patients with flat feet (pes planus), assessing how the arch of the foot is affecting comfort and function, and offers foot care during pregnancy, when changes in weight, posture and swelling can place...
