CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Çalışkan's areas of expertise are anesthesiology, reanimation, perioperative care, patient monitoring and surgical anesthesia. In surgical anesthesia she is responsible for planning and administering anesthesia for patients undergoing operations, taking into account the patient's medical history, current medications and the nature of the planned procedure.

Reanimation refers to the support of patients whose vital functions are compromised, and it forms part of the training and daily work of an anesthesiology and reanimation specialist. Dr. Çalışkan works together with the surgical and other clinical teams involved in a patient's treatment, and the anesthesiology plan is adapted to the individual patient and the specific procedure.
