CLINICAL FOCUS

Melike Külekçi Durmuş's areas of expertise include anxiety disorders, depression and mood disorders, and obsessive-compulsive disorder. She also works with individuals experiencing stress, sleep difficulties, and the psychological effects of trauma and grief.

In addition to individual work with adults, she offers counseling for relationship and family problems, where difficulties within a couple or a family system are explored together. She also provides child and adolescent counseling, which may involve working with the young person as well as with parents or caregivers, depending on the age...
