CLINICAL FOCUS

A significant part of Dr. Çapoğlu's practice involves the evaluation and management of dental root inflammation and dental root infection. These conditions concern the inner structures of the tooth and the tissues around the root, and the appropriate approach depends on the individual findings.

Dr. Çapoğlu also carries out dental fillings to restore teeth affected by decay or structural damage. Where a tooth is not considered suitable for restoration, tooth extraction may be discussed as one of the possible options. In each case, the aim is to explain the findings clearly, outline the alternatives, and allow the patient to make an informed decision about their dental care.
