CLINICAL FOCUS

Meltem Doğan carries out audiometry, the measurement of hearing sensitivity that forms the basis of most hearing evaluations. Her work covers the assessment of hearing loss in adults as well as paediatric hearing loss, where testing approaches are adapted to the age and cooperation of the child.

Audiological findings are considered together with the clinical picture and are shared with the ENT team, so that the results can be interpreted in the context of the patient's overall evaluation. Where further steps are being considered, the audiological assessment provides part of the information the treating physicians use when discussing options with the patient or family.
