CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Eren's areas of expertise are intensive care, critical care monitoring, anesthesiology and reanimation. In the intensive care unit, she takes part in the care of patients whose condition requires continuous observation and prompt medical intervention. Critical care monitoring involves the ongoing assessment of a patient's vital functions so that changes can be identified and addressed as they occur.

Her training in anesthesiology and reanimation underpins her approach to intensive care. Anesthesiology concerns the management of patients during and around procedures, while reanimation refers to the support and restoration of vital functions in patients who are seriously ill. Dr.
