CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Bari's practice is centered on gynecology and women's health. This includes the assessment of gynecological symptoms and conditions, the discussion of findings with the patient, and the planning of further evaluation or treatment where this is indicated.

The second part of her work is obstetrics and pregnancy care. This covers the follow-up of women during pregnancy, the monitoring of the health of mother and baby over the course of the pregnancy, and the planning of care around delivery. Pregnancy follow-up is individualized, since the frequency of visits and the type of monitoring depend on the woman's medical history and the course of the pregnancy itself.
