CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Hayretci's clinical focus is diagnostic radiology, with particular involvement in magnetic resonance imaging (MRI). In hospital-based radiology, the radiologist's role is to select and interpret imaging examinations in cooperation with the referring physician, so that findings can be placed in the context of the patient's history,...

The wider field of radiology includes examinations such as coronary CT angiography and PET-CT imaging. Whether any particular imaging study is appropriate for an individual patient is a decision made by the treating physicians on a case-by-case basis, taking into account the clinical indication and any prior imaging that has already been...
