CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Türkmen evaluates and treats osteoarthritis and other forms of joint degeneration, including hip replacement surgery and knee replacement surgery where these are considered appropriate. In sports medicine and sports traumatology, his work includes knee and joint injuries such as meniscus tears and cruciate ligament tears.

In pediatric orthopedics, his areas of expertise include movement disorder treatment and spasticity in children. Treatment decisions in these areas depend on the individual assessment of each patient, including age, symptoms, imaging findings and any prior treatment.
