CLINICAL FOCUS

A substantial part of Dr. Karaman's practice concerns sleep-related conditions, including sleep apnea, snoring and insomnia. His published work includes comparisons of radiofrequency and transoral robotic surgery in obstructive sleep apnea syndrome and of laser and electrocautery techniques in robot-assisted tongue base surgery.

Other areas of expertise include voice hoarseness, hearing loss, vertigo and balance disorders, and head and neck surgery. His research publications also address laryngeal squamous cell carcinoma, the effect of functional neck dissection and postoperative radiotherapy on the spinal accessory nerve, facial nerve repair, thyroid autograft...
