CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Çetiner evaluates and treats patients with acute lymphoblastic leukemia (ALL), acute myeloid leukemia (AML), and chronic myeloid leukemia (CML), as well as other bone marrow diseases. His work also covers CAR T-cell therapy, an area of cellular treatment for selected hematologic malignancies, and Castleman disease.

In non-malignant hematology, he sees patients with anemia, including iron deficiency anemia, immune thrombocytopenia (ITP), and Henoch-Schönlein purpura (HSP). Treatment recommendations depend on the individual diagnosis, disease stage, and the patient's overall condition, and are discussed with the patient after the relevant findings...
