CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Herdem's practice includes the assessment and surgical management of traumatic injuries, bone tumors, joint conditions, deformities, and complex foot problems. In the upper extremity, his work covers hand surgery, pediatric hand and upper extremity surgery, shoulder surgery, and elbow surgery.

Within orthopedic oncology, Dr. Herdem assesses patients with bone tumors and discusses the surgical options that may be appropriate. Whether surgery is advisable, and which approach is chosen, depends on the individual case, the findings on imaging, and the patient's general health. Treatment is planned on a case-by-case basis after clinical evaluation, and non-surgical measures are considered where they are suitable.
