CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Karaboğa's clinical interests reflect the scope of anesthesiology and reanimation. In intensive care treatment, he is involved in the care of patients who require close monitoring and organ support, which in practice often includes coordination with other specialties involved in a patient's treatment.

In the area of pain management, Dr. Karaboğa evaluates patients with pain that may be related to surgery, illness or ongoing conditions and discusses possible approaches with them. Further general information on this area is available on the Interventional Pain Management page of this site.
