CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Kaya's area of expertise is the diagnosis and management of inflammatory bowel disease, a group of chronic conditions that includes Crohn's disease and ulcerative colitis. These conditions can vary considerably between patients in their location, extent and course, and treatment is usually planned individually after a careful assessment of symptoms, laboratory findings and...

Endoscopy is a central part of his practice. Endoscopic examination allows direct visualization of the lining of the digestive tract and is used both to establish a diagnosis and to monitor disease activity over time. Dr.
